10 Tips For Feeling Inspired

Take a walk outside.

- Get outside and clear your mind. Exercise and fresh air will give you new energy.

Work in a different place.

- Pack up your laptop or notebook and change your scenery. Head to the library, a coffee shop or a park bench.

Listen to music.

- Sometimes it's nice to work in quiet, but other times listening to music might do you wonders. Switch between genres.

Take a break.

- If you're feeling stuck, don't force it. Check Facebook. Read the paper. Get a snack. Allow 15 minutes of distractions.

Spend time with different people.

- Get inspired by surrounding yourself with a variety of people from all walks of life. Catching up over lunch might spark a new idea or give you new insight.

Learn something new.

- New experiences and challenges can boost creativity.

Brainstorm and keep an idea journal.

- Scribble every thought you have on a blank sheet of paper. It will clear your mind. Keep all those ideas in an idea journal for future reference.

Rearrange and organize.

- Clean and organize your desk. Rearrange your furniture.

Change your routine.

- Work at different times of the day. Try tackling a problem in the morning, or take another look at it later that night.

Play.

Play a game, conquer the monkey bars, or color. Do something fun and exciting today!
